

“MASSAGING PEOPLE WHO HAVE DEMENTIA”

“An opportunity to learn how to enable clients who have dementia feel comfortable about having massage, & learning specialist techniques that reflect understanding the world from your client’s perspective.”

This “Massaging People who have Dementia” course will give you the tools to set up a positive, professional working relationship with carers, be they friends, family or professionals, to ensure you work together for the client's benefit. It is a course for people who are already qualified in massage but wish to advance their skills, and build on their current knowledge to give them the confidence to practice more proficiently in this field. The course also intends to dispel some of the myths around dementia as well as celebrate the positive. Understanding your client equips you better to give them a massage treatment so they will benefit for hours or days.

This is a very exciting opportunity to attend a unique, & in turn, fun & profound training day which combines the cutting edge techniques of being able to genuinely make clients with dementia feel more comfortable about touch. Through this course you will gain the skills to deliver a fantastic hands-on package to some wonderful people.

This CMA approved course (further approval being sought with FHT & CThA) is hosted in a stunning location in Cornwall at the beautiful Blue Lotus Therapy Centre in Scorrier. Nicolle is offering the course at the introductory price of £95 on the 10th September & 26th November this year.
